Medical.

Baltimore Lock Hospital.

DR. JOHNSTON,

Physician of this celebrated Institution, has discovered the most Certain, Speedy, Pleasant and Effectual Remedy in the World for all

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE,

Weakness of the Back, or Limbs, Strictures, Affections of the Kidneys, or Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Languor, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the heart, Timidity, Trembling, Dimness of Sight, or Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—those terrible disorders arising from Solitary Habits of Youth—SECRET and SOLITARY practices, more fatal to their victims, than the songs of the Syrens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes, or anticipations, rendering marriage, &c., impossible.

YOUNG MEN

especially, who have become the Victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.

Married persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, aware of Physical Weakness (Loss of Procreative Power—Impotency,) Nervous Excitability, Palpitation, Organic Weakness, Nervous Debility, or any other disqualification, speedily relieved.
He who places himself under the care of Dr. J. may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidentially rely upon his skill as a physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

IMPOTENCY, LOSS OF POWER,

Immediately Cured, and Full Vigor Restored. This distressing affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgences. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny, that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits, than by the prudent? Beside being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions Weakened, Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility, and Wasting of the Frame, Cough, Consumption, Decay and Death.

A CURE WARRANTED IN TWO DAYS.

Relief in Six Hours! No Mercury!

Persons Ruined by Ignorant, Trifling Pretenders, and their Deadly Poisons, should apply immediately.

DR. JOHNSTON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London. Graduate of one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the Hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgences and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or marriage.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

MENTALLY.—The fearful effects of the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self-Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption.

YOUNG MEN

who have injured themselves by a certain practice, indulged in when alone, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are sadly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and employments of life, by the consequences of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemplating reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darker as the view, the mind becomes shadowed to despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with our own.

DISEASE OF IMPRUDENCE.

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an idea of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease makes their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commiseration till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings, by sending him to that undiscovered country, "from whence no traveler returns."

It is a melancholy fact, that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of Boarding-House Keepers, Steamboat Runners, Hotel Waiters, or Unskilful PRETENDERS, who by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the constitution, and incapable of curing, keep the unhappy sufferer months after month taking their noxious or injurious compounds, and instead of being restored to a renewal of life, vigor and health, is reduced to a mere wreck, with ruined Health, to sign over his galling disappointments.

To such, therefore, Dr. JOHNSTON pledges himself to preserve the most inviolable Secrecy, and from his extensive practice and observations in the great Hospitals of Europe, and the first in this country, viz: England, France, Philadelphia and elsewhere, is enabled to offer the most Special, Certain and Effectual Remedy in the World for all diseases of Imprudence.

DR. JOHNSTON,
OFFICE, 7 SOUTH FREDERICK STREET, left hand side going from Baltimore street, a few doors from the corner. Fail not to observe the name and number.
BALTIMORE, MD.,

☞ No letters received unless postpaid and containing stamp to be used on the same. Persons writing should state age, and send a portion of advertisement describing symptoms.

There are so many Fancy Designing and Worthless Impostors advertising themselves as Physicians, with high sounding titles, trifling with and ruining the health of all who unfortunately fall into their power, that Dr. Johnston deems it necessary to say especially to those unacquainted with his reputation, that his Credentials or Diplomas always hang in his office.

ENGRAVEMENT OF THE PRESS.

The many thousands cured at this establishment, year after year, and the numerous Surgical Operations performed by Dr. Johnston witnessed by the representatives of the press and many other persons, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, besides his standing as a gentleman of character and responsibility, is sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.

SKIN DISEASES SPEEDILY CURED.
March 11, 1870—1y1pr

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

FOR ALL THE PUPOSES OF A LAXATIVE MEDICINE.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was a cathartic ever so universally adopted into use in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is the most perfect and the most effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always. They are sugar coated, so that they may be taken pleasantly, and are the cheapest cathartic of reliable character in the market. Being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Loss of Appetite, Jaundice, and various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Sea-sickness or Green Sickness, Nausea, Sour Eructations, Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to test the disease, and a cure certain will follow the destruction which ensue it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Paintation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continued for some time, as required to change the diseased action of the system. With such change these complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a speedy purge.

For Suppression, or too profuse menstruation, it produces the desired effect in all cases.

As a dinner pill, or to relieve Costiveness, to promote digestion and restore the stomach and bowels into healthy action, one pill is generally sufficient.

A occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restoring the appetite, and invigorating the system. Hence a dose of these Pills frequently taken, prevents fever and ague and other disorders by expelling the morbific matter of which they would otherwise originate.

AN old baptist minister enforced the necessity of difference of opinion by this argument: "Now if everybody had been of my opinion, they would have all wanted my old woman." ON THE STAIRWAY.

BY LUCY LARCOM.

The little children on the stairway,
Cased in a slippery glare of sleet,
By post and railing vainly clamber—
Slight hold is there for baby feet,
High in the cold air swings the school bell,
"Come up! come up!" its clang commands;
A quick thought flies from lips to fingers,
"'Tis easier taking hold of hands."

Now laughter lights their rosy faces;
Stout arms the faltering strugglers lift;
Now all at last have won the threshold,
And out of sight within they drift.
Flinging back bloom upon the snow-wreaths:
The blank, white world reflects their smile:
Their word has cleared for us a pathway,
Though Alps of ice the high road pile.

We all are children on a stairway,
Weary of vain attempts to climb,
Or, strong ourselves, forgetting others—
While silver peals of Duty chime
High in the echoing heavens above us,
And, welcome we or dread the call,
Upon the steps we may not linger,
Ascend we must, slide back, or fall.

Whose is the fault if thus one stumbles?
If that laments a hopeless bruise?
Or if another sits despairing?
Yours, mine, who timely aid refuse.
Small honor to go up unhindered
When a tired brother by us stands;
The little children, they shall teach us,
"'Tis easier taking hold of hands."

Still up and down on virtue's ladder
Unnumbered beings come and go,
With faces turned to nether darkness,
Or summed with a celestial glow.
The truants out of Duty's heaven,
The white and dazzling seraph-bands,
Are brethern still; and, struggling upward,
"'Tis easier taking hold of hands."

The Duty of the People of Gettysburg.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I trust that the motive will excuse the liberty which I take of inviting the attention of our citizens to the duty of providing adequate and suitable entertainment for the strangers who may be reasonably expected to visit us during the next summer. As it will require all the time which will elapse, to make such provision this communication can hardly be regarded as inopportune.

While we have probably sufficient amount of Hotel and boarding-house accommodations for a particular class of these expected visitors, we have not for another class, who desire and are willing to pay for more luxurious entertainment. Nearly all the rooms in the magnificent Springs Hotel are engaged, as is well known, for the next season, and the problem which has continually pressed for a solution since Gettysburg become famous, and a resort for health seekers, again presents itself. The duties of hospitality are enjoined alike by civilization, and by religion, and it is certainly far from being onerous, when those who receive the hospitality are willing to amply renumerate their entertainers. Especially does this duty become imperious and sacred on the part of those who occupy any of the notable or hallowed spots of earth, in which a nation or the civilized world have, in virtue of its memories, an interest. The disregard of these duties, by the latter, has frequently excited the indignation of civilized nations, and not unfrequently the interference of governments, and even the military chastisement of the delinquents. It was the violation of the duties of hospitality by the Mohammedans who had obtained, by the fortunes of war, the control of Palestine, of duties enjoined by the precepts of their own religion, which produced the war of the Crusade and precipitated the adherents of two opposing religions in armed collision upon its plains.—Certainly, if this duty is imperative and sacred, on the part of the possessors of any of the modern historic grounds, it is on that of those in whose keeping Providence has placed the town of Gettysburg and its environs. Not only is it the second birthplace of the Republic, and the scene of the deliverance of Constitutional Government from an appalling catastrophe, but the source of a healing fountain which seems designed by Heaven to typify even to the skepticism and rationalism of the age the idea of a saving providential intervention on this field. Surely the pilgrims to this place so celebrated and hallowed in the world's estimation, and the afflicted visitors to this healing spring which bubbles on the very spot on which was initiated those momentous events, are entitled to the largest hospitality from the people of Gettysburg and its vicinity.—That it is expected from us by the great public we have been unmistakably informed by the criticisms of the astonished and indignant visitors of previous years, and by the eulogies and praises of those of the present season. While it is abundantly manifest that we cannot continue to disregard the duties of hospitality without becoming infamous throughout Christendom, the scorn and by-word among the nations, it has also become equally manifest that the discharge of these duties is to be not only one of the most agreeable but one of the most lucrative operations in which any community ever engaged. It is in other words as distinctly foreshadowed as if written in characters of fire across our heavens that this town and its environs are to become a great health and popular resort, one of the greatest of our times.—The only part of this apparently divine revelation which is at all in doubt, is the time when, and the agents by whom, this decree is to be executed. Are the people of Gettysburg and vicinity to be displaced by others better able to see and to appreciate the advantages of their position or will the former at length open their eyes and arouse their dormant energies and become themselves the executors of the decrees of fate.

A portion of the citizens of Gettysburg have gloriously responded in the affirmative. They have erected a magnificent Hotel and have won for themselves and the community the approbation of the whole nation. They have demonstrated that this Hotel and two or three more like it, can be sustained, and can be made to pay if the money can be obtained to defray the expenses of their erection. Now that the difficult and doubtful part of the achievement has been performed, the noble few must not be expected to do everything. The experiment which they have initiated has proven to the satisfaction of even the croakers, and of the mercenary, who are but too numerous, in every society, that money expended on great Hotels around Gettysburg will pay. But it is said, that the effect of this conviction upon some of these latter classes is not to induce them to contribute money for the multiplication of Hotels, or to enlarge the one already erected, but to withhold it from the relief of those who, with very inadequate means, have built and furnished the latter. This it is alleged they do, in the hope that their embarrassments may compel a sacrifice of the property, before the owners will be relieved by the profits of their investment. Accursed be the hope, if it exists in any human mind, and it may be as well to blast it in embryo by stating for the edification of these human beasts of prey if such exist that the land on which this Hotel has been erected, was donated for this express purpose, and that the buildings can be applied to none other. The proprietor of the Spring I am informed has decl

ON Tuesday next the New York State Election will come off. Gov. Hoffman is a candidate for re-election, the Republican nominee being Gen. Woolford.—The Republicans of the rural districts are much discouraged by the enormous frauds in New York City, increasing year after year, where Democratic majorities are manufactured to suit the necessities of the case, and wipe out any genuine Republican majority that that may be polled in other parts of the State. This year an earnest effort is being made by the United States authorities to secure a free and fair election of members of Congress in New York City. United States Marshal Sharpe has begun to swear in deputies to enforce the laws of Congress against fraudulent voting, and it is said he will have 8,000 deputies sworn in by election day. Marshal Sharpe is given the power, under the law, to appoint "as many special deputies as may be necessary to preserve order at any election at which representatives in Congress are to be chosen," to preserve order at such elections, and "to arrest for any offence or breach of the peace committed within their view." The Marshal is bound to have an adequate force to insure peaceable and fair voting, and has made arrangments to back up his deputies with adequate military force, if necessary.

The Democratic leaders, alarmed at the possibility of having their fraudulent schemes broken up, profess great indignation at this interference of the General Government, and nightly harrangue their retainers in bitter denunciations of the United States officials, instigating resistance and riot. Serious trouble may insue on election day. But we trust the Government will stand firm. New York city is about as good a place as can be well selected in which to test the power of the Government to secure a free and fair ballot. It is in that city that this system of wholesale fraud was inaugurated, and if it becomes necessary to shoot down some of the scoundrels, neither the City nor the country will be the worse for it.

IN our war summary will be found the details of the surrender of the famous fortress of Metz to the Prussians. It is probably the most formidable fortress in Europe, aside from Gibraltar. For centuries it has been noted in European struggles, successive engineers of great reputation having added works, until it came to be regarded impregnable as against assault. Starvation has done for the Prussians what shot and shell could not have done. A garrison of ten or twenty thousand men could have held the works against all comers. Unfortunately for the French, the superior tactics of the Prussian commanders, in the outstart of the war, drove Bazaine with his immense army into the works, which were at once invested by rapid combinations of the Prussian forces. Bazaine made repeated efforts to cut his way out, fighting bloody battles, around the walls, but was uniformaly driven back, and his army held as in a vice. With 170,000 men to feed, the supplies rapidly diminished, until want and famine compelled a surrender. It is a heavy blow to France. With the victory at Sedan and the surrender of Metz, the regular French army, which opened the War with the "On-to-Berlin" cry, has been annihilated. Over 300,000 are prisoners in German hands, and the balance killed or disabled. All the fighting Generals of repute, on whom the hopes of French rested at the beginning of the War—McMahon, Bazaine, Canrobert, Le Beuf, Douay, &c., have been captured or killed.

The campaign has been brief, sharp, and extraordinary—proving the military superiority of Prussia in all respects. France to-day lies hopelessly at the feet of her conquerors, with an immense army, flushed with victory and led by the same soldiers who crushed McMahon and Bazaine, investing the City of Paris. The fate of the latter is only a question of time. There is no possible hope for France but peace on the best terms the conquerors may be willing to give. Yet Gambetta and his followers refuse to recognize the stern logic of events, and issue frantic appeals to the people to continue the struggle, preferring all the horrors of the bombardment of a magnificent city, with its two millions of men, women and children, who must undergo sufferings, compared to which all in the past has been mere play.

In the mean time the Prussians are quietly but effectively concentrating around Paris and arranging the engines of death to bear on the doomed city, unless Gambetta and his mad-cap followers come to terms.

Besides these military troubles, the future of France is further darkened by dissensions in the Republican ranks—red Republicans and rabid aggrarians contesting with moderate Republicans for power, while the Imperialists and Orleanists are plotting and anxiously watching developments, each anxious to seize the proper moment to get into power. General mistrust prevails. Trochu and Thiers are said to be at heart Orleanists, and the jealous masses know not whom to trust.

We see no out-look for France, with infidelity, aggrarianism, and debauched conscience pervading the masses of the people, but in a return to a military government strong enough to repress disorder and hold in check the revolutionary spirit which in 1793 deluged France with blood. We should like to see stable Republican governments wielding power in Europe, but we do not believe France is yet ready for the experiment.

THE election in West Virginia has resoulted in an unexpected Democratic triumph. They elect the Governor, with a majority of the Legislature and two of the three members of Congress. It is very evident that little is to be expected in the South where the white element predominates. Rebel hate and malignity were not subdued in the discomfiture of the Rebel armies, and are now as rampant as during the Rebellion, when blatant demagogues fired the Southern heart with denunciations of the Government. The hope of the country, for the present, rests with the loyal colored men in the Southern States who vote as they fought, for Freedom and the Right. These stern loyalists to-day hold South Carolina loyal to the Government and firm in its devotion to the Republican party. No wonder the Copperheads hate the 15th Amendment.

LEGISLATIVE REFORM.

The action of the Union League of Philadelphia, to which we adverted last week, in favor of a convention to amend the constitution, is attracting renewed attention to the Reform movement, which is imperiously demanded to correct the gross abuses growing out of our present Legisaltive system. The evil has been growing with each successive year, until local legislation has monopolized the attention of the Legislature to the exclusion of public interests. The history of all special legislation proves that it begets temptations and bribery, converting our legislative halls into market places where important offices have been sold to the highest bidder, and there appears to be no remedy for these acknowledged evils other than well-considered amendments to the constitution of the State.

The last Delaware County American, (whose editor, Mr. Cooper, was a member of the last Legislature and re-elected this fall, and therefore knows whereof he speaks,) declares strongly in favor of a Constitutional Convention. From a sensible leader on the subject we make an extract or two:

> For three or four years past we have, whenever occasion offered, advocated such a change in our State constitution as will guard against bribery, check special legislation, and connect our Legislature more closely with and make its members more directly amenable to the people. Various plans have been proposed and discussed, but organization for this object alone has never before been effected. The Union League, an influential, able and wealthy political body, have, however, started the ball, and success is promised at an early day. It will be the duty of every member of the Senate and House at the next session, if he has any regard for the known wishes of the people, to second the effort by his voice and vote. Pass the act submitting the question of a change to the people, and we will trust to its ratification. Then let us have a convention, composed of men who have no private jobs on hand and no factious political interests to subserve, and such amendments will be proposed and submited, as will effect the desired objects.
> We are governed too much, and while in our political theory all power abides with the people, in practice we annually prove that the theory is about all that is enjoyed. Every year we witness disgraceful struggles over the office of State Treasurer, and investigations which are the veriest shams imaginable. Weeks of valuable time are not only lost, but the whole Legislature is more or less demoralized by the struggle and the people lose confidence in a form of government which, properly administered, is the best known to the world.
> Abolish this mode of electing a State Treasurer by constitutional amendment, and by the same process direct the management of the State funds. Abolish likewise our present system of legislation, so that men will go to Harrisburg to serve public and not individual interests; and since we cannot change the mode of electing United States Senators, let us at least hedge the power of corruption by all possible means. Many reforms can be suggested, the number of Senators and Representatives can be increased and their pay reduced and time of sitting limited—special legislation can be lessened and the power of conferring corporate privileges lodged in the court. Only let all interested ernestly discuss and agitate the question, and a remedy will be found—and let us see to it that our Senators and Representatives aid the movement, earnestly and efficiently—without demagogueism, and with a view to serve public and not private interests.

SECRETARY COX on Saturday retired from the Interior Department, and Mr. Delano entered on the duties of the office. The much talked of correspondence between General Cox and the President has been published. In his letter of resignation he intimates that he cannot administer his office as he desires to without provoking conflicts that might be prejudicial to the President, and therefore desires to vacate it. The President accepted the Secretary's resignation, and in his letter speaks of him in warm and cordial terms.

ON November 8th, being the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, elections will be held in nineteen States for members of Congress and State officers. These States are Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Kansas, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Michigan, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Virginia and Wisconsin. In Louisiana the election will be held on Monday, November 7th.

THE official statement of the U. S. Treasury Department for Nov. 1, shows a further reduction of the Debt, during the month of October, of $5,129,296.73. The total reduction, since March 1, 1870, is $96,555,121.62.

GOV. GEARY has issued his proclamation designating Thursday the 24th of November as a day of Thanksgiving—the same fixed by President Grant.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

In continuance of an honored State and national custom, and in devout acknowledgement of human dependence upon Almighty favor, I do hereby appoint Thursday the twenty-fourth day of November next as a day of Thanksgiving and praise, being the same day, and for the same ends and uses, set forth by his Excellency, the President of the United States, in his proclamation of the twenty-first instant.

Peunsylvania, unsurpassed in blessings, should not be surpassed by any in acknowledging her gratitude to God. Let us, then, as citizens of the commonwealth, assmain, as far as possible, from our usual avocations on that day, and assemble at our respective places of worship, and let us there, and in the festivities of our assembled families at our cherished homes, rejoice in the goodness of God, and render thanks to Him for His loving kindness and His abundant mercy toward us. Let our thanksgiving and praise find expression in dedicating the day to deeds of benevolence and charity, and in ministering to, and alleviating the wants of the poor, the needy, and the suffering, so that all may "rejoice and be exceeding glad." "To do good and to distribute, forget not; for with such sacrifices God is well pleased."

Let us invoke Divine favor upon our beloved State and nation, and pray that all who are called to administer their government may be actuated by the "spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and the fear of the Lord."

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this twenty-eighth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-fifth,

By the Governor: JNO. W. GEARY.

THE SURRENDER OF METZ

173,000 PRISONERS

GREAT REJOICING IN GERMANY

KING WILLIAM'S ANNOUNCEMENT

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—The King telegraphs to the Queen the surrender of Metz. The following is the full text of the despatch:

"VERSAILLES, Oct. 27, Morning.—To Queen Augusta, Hamburg: Marshal Bazaine, commanding the French garrison at Metz, capitulated this morning. His army, consisting of one hundred and fifty thousand soldiers, including twenty thousand sick, are in our hands.

"The army under Marshal Bazaine and the regular garrison lay down their arms this afternoon. This is one of the most important events that has occurred in our arms during the present month. Let us return thanks to a merciful Providence who has so graciously accorded us such victories.

[Signed] "WILLIAM."

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The special correspondent of the Tribune, before Metz, telegraphs on the 26th:

Five days ago General Coffeniers, commandant of the city and fortress of Metz, informed Marshal Bazaine, commanding the army encamped outside, that he could supply no more provisions, and that they must shift for themselves. Thereupon, Bazaine ordered his outposts to cease firing on the Prussian pickets, and tacitly allowed his men to desert in groups of a dozen or two, who are accepted by the Prussian outposts as prisoners. Larger bodies were refused. On the afternoon of the 24th, trustworthy information came from Metz, by a civilian spy, that an outbreak, en masse, would be made during the night towards Gravelotte, as Bazaine's offers to capitulate with his army alone had been repeatedly and peremptorily refused, the outbreak to be made without the hope of saving any portion of the organized troops, but simply to enable those superfluous mouths to get behind the German lines and force the Germans to take them prisoners, whereby the fortress might hold out a little longer with the small garrison, but at 7 o'clock in the evening Bazaine had succeeded in convincing General Coffeniers that the inevitable bloodshed consequent on such an attempt would be too dear a price to be paid for a few days prolongation of resistance. A messenger was sent to Prince Frederick Charles intimating the intention in the garrison to capitulate. This was the first proposition ever made including the fortress and the outside army. Accordingly at midnight the Prussian troops which had been marching silently toward Gravelotte received orders to retire to their camps. At one o'clock yesterday afternoon General Changarnier arrived and spent an hour with the Prince, and departed much disturbed, excusing some absent mindedness of his own, saying, "No wonder; the Prince was so severe."

By the arrangements of this meeting Gen. Stiehle, Col. Von Herzanig, Chief of Staff and Quartermaster General of the Prince's Army, rode to Chateau de Frescoty, three miles south of Metz, just within the Prussian lines, whither two French commanders, with Humbert second in command in the fortress, had been brought by a Prussian post-chaise. The meeting lasted from 6 to 7 o'clock in the evening, and resulted only at parting in an agreement that the disputed points should be discussed again at noon to-day. Matters were, however, so far advanced that the Second Corps received orders to march for Paris yesterday at noon, and started early in the evening. Other troops concentrated at the nearest attainable point to Metz last night, to prevent desertion, Bazaine's last means of prolonging negotiations.

All the way from Mars-la-Tour to Courcelles, and from Vany to Mezieres, all the village quarters were lit up and all the bivouac fires were burning at 2 o'clock this morning. Moving masses covered the roads and fields. No disturbance occurred, and none of the troops suspected the truth.

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—The news of the surrender of Bazaine, and the capitulation of Metz, created the wildest enthusiasm, being bulletined publicly from the balconies of the ministers of the interior and war. Great crowds, rapidly swelling to enormous proportions, surrounded the ministries, cheering and making the most exuberant demonstrations of joy and delight.

Prominent officials were serenaded, and their residences besieged by eager crowds, and their occupants were forced to appear and address the congregation com posed of men, women and children.

In the evening a procession of immense length, headed by bands of music, paraded the streets with banners and flambeaux. The principal squares, particularly the grand avenue, Unter den Linden, were packed with people singing and cheering.

The scenes in the evening were a repetition of those in the afternoon.

MUNICH, Oct. 28.—There were great rejoicings here yesterday over the announcement telegraphed direct from Versailles that Bazaine and his army had surrendered to Prince Frederick Charles. The royal palace was serenaded and the statue of the king of Bavaria wreathed with flowers.

THE DETAILS OF THE CAPITULATION.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The Tribune special correspondent telegraphs to-day from Metz:

My telegram of the 26th left the capitulation unfinished. On the evening before the German Chief-of-Staff had left Frascati very much discouraged, and scarcely hoping for any agreement, as the French appeared intractable and obstinate. Nevertheless, I knew from private sources that Metz could not hold out, and accordingly told you to expect the capitulation surely.

At noon Bazaine sent Prince Frederick Charles an autograph letter asking another conference, and accordingly the Germans sent General Stiekle, Chief-of-Staff of the Second Army, and Count Warteurs Leben, Chief-of-Staff of the First Army, to Frascati once more.

The interview lasted three hours in the afternoon. It was stormy at first on the part of the French commissioners, but resulted in their conversion to the main points of the German terms. The first difficulty was concerning the officers keeping their side arms, on which Bazaine insisted. The point was finally referred to the King and conceded in a despatch received at three on the morning of the 27th. By agreement the conference was resumed early the same morning and lasted till eight o'clock in the evening, when the capitulation was signed, and the absolute reduction of Metz and all its fortifications, armaments, stores and munitions, and Bazaine's army, comprising three Marshals of France, sixty three Generals, 6,000 officers and 173,000 troops. The Germans are astounded at this result—an army and fortress capitulating to an investing army larger than itself by only a small fraction.

SCENES IN THE CITY.

When the rendition became known the people were furious. The National Guard refused to lay down their arms, and on the afternoon of the 28th a dragoon captain appeared at the head of a body of troops, who swore they would sooner die than yield.

Albert Colignon, editor of the ultra-democratic daily, the Journal de Metz, rode about on a white horse, firing a pistol and exhorting them to rally and seek victory or death, to escape impending shame. He was followed by a lady singing the Marseillaise, which produced a terrible excitement. The doors of the Cathedral were burst open, and the tocsin and death bell rung nearly all night. When General Coffiniers appeared to pacify them, three pistol shots were received by him, and finally, by aid of two line regiments, he quietly dispersed the mob. The sounds of indignation and terror continued all night. Respectable women ran about the streets tearing their hair and flinging their bonnets and laces under their feet, and seeking their friends, and asking wildly: "What will become of our children." Soldiers, drunk and sober, tumbled hither and thither in irregular groups, with their caps off, and their sabres broken, sobbing and weeping like children, and crying "There is no longer a France."

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Bazaine passed through Ars, on his way to Wilhelmshohe, in a closed carriage marked with his name, and escorted by several of his Staff on horseback. The women of the village had heard of his coming, and awaiting him, saluted him with exclamations of traitre lache, poltroon, faineant, voleur, brigand—"Where are our husbands you have betrayed? Give us back our children whom you have sold." They attacked the carraige, and would have lynched the Marshal but for the intervention of the Prussian gensdarmes.

EXCITEMENT AT TOURS.

TOURS, Oct. 29.—Evening.—There is great excitement here to-day owing to the report that Metz has fallen and Bazaine capitulated. The first rumors last night were refused credit, but now it is known to be true, and the people are wild and dangerous. There is division of sentiment on the new. The Government loudly denounces the army as traitors to their country, and openly threaten the leaders with a drum-head court-martial should they come to Tours, and declares the surrender to be a plot of the Empire to regain possession of power. Cooler persons condemn these assaults on the loyalty of the army, and believe Bazaine fought nobly and only yielded to starvation. Many openly talk of peace, and express the belief that the Government are more eager to retain power than to save the country from further horrors. There has been some insubordination among the military. The Government is determined to punish disobedience to the utmost if they possess the power. A removal of the seat of the department is probable.

CIRCULAR FROM BISMARCK.

Bismarck has issued a circular in which he reviews the unbroken line of German victories to show that France can have no hope of prolonging resistance, and that Paris should at once accept the terms offerred it for capitulation. Otherwise he anticipates fearful suffering to the two millions of people within its walls, whom the besiegers will not be able to feed after the horrors of bombardment, siege and starvation shall have forced them to yield.

The French army of the Loire was preparing for movements which have been checked by Bazaine's surrender. The Government at Tours has issued a proclamation denouncing his action as a betrayal of the country and calling on the nation still to persevere in their efforts for the Republic. Princes Frederick William and Frederick Charles have been made Field Marshals as a reward for their victories over the armies of Bazaine and McMahon.

TUESDAY Nov, 1.—King Wilhelm has officially announced his determination to immediately bombard the city of Paris, unless it surrenders to avoid the horrors of bombardment.

Bismarck has issued a circular to foreign powers, reciting the uniform successes of the German armies, the hopelessness of continued resistance by the French, and throwing on the Government of France the responsibility of a continuation of the war and consequent loss of life and suffering. Germany is ready to withdraw from the contest, as soon as France agrees to meet the just demands of Prussia for indemnity and security against future aggressions.

The Germans around Paris held solemn religious services yesterday in commemoration of the Reformation.

The news from Paris, received by way of the Prussian headquarters before that city is quite serious. The French prisoners recently captured report that the troops behind the fortifications receive only half a pound of meat twice a week.

General Bourbaki announces his intention to form flying armies with material to relieve invested places, and to take the field at the head of the forces. Vigorous prepar ation for defence are making on all sides.

A detachment of six thousand troops from the army of Prince Frederick Charles has gone to besiege Longuy, near the Belgian border.

As Prussia still demands cession of territory from France as a preliminary of peace, it is believed in Austrian official circles that the war must proceed indefinitely.

A Cologne despatch says Prussia and the North German Confederation have furnished seven hundred and forty thousand troops for the present war, and the States of South Germany one hundred and sixteen thousand. Of this grand total of eight hundred and fifty six thousand men nearly all are now on French soil. They are expected to complete the conquest of France in a short winter campaign.

A correspondent states that previous to the capitulation of Metz Bazine had buried in the earth a caisse de Parmee, containing 400,000,000 francs in gold and 100,000,000 francs in silver. The Germans received information as to the burial of this treasure, and forced him to reveal the locality.

The formal approval of the candidature of the Duke of Aosta for the Spanish throne by England, Prussia, Italy, Austrai, and Russia, is officially acknowledged by the Spanish government.

THE CHARGES AGAINST BAZAINE.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 2.—Telegrams from French and Belgian sources bring further proof of the accusations against Bazaine of treachery to France in the surrender of Metz. The people followed him through the streets, calling him traitor, and a Metz newspaper states that the troops did not expect a surrender, but on the contrary were promised that they should be given a final opportunity to fight their way out of the besieged city. The Marshal, however, publishes a reply to Gambetta, in which he denies the charges against him, and says that he surrendered to famine. Some of the Tours newspaper suggests a suspension of public judgement and a council of war to investigate the matter. Bazaine has arrived at Wilhelmshohe, and he and the Empress Eugenie are with Napoleon, Canrobert, MoMahon, Le Beouf and others of the Bonapartist commanders were expected there. There are reports of Bonapartists plots in progress, and a grand demonstration to be made.

ARISTOCRATIC REFUGEES.

A London despatch says that the Prussians offered to the Provisional Government an armistice of forty-eight hours in order to facilitate the elections for a constituent Assembly, but their proposals was immediately rejected. It is again reported that the seat of Government is to be removed from Tours, and Lyons, is named as the next halting place.

Gambetta yesterday issued another of his interminable proclamations to the army with the object of fixing up the French heart. It may be fun to these plotting politicians, but death to the soldiers, thus to prosecute a lost cause.

Over fifty Americans have recently left Paris under safe conduct of Minister Washburne. King William's letter to Prince Frederick Charles, congratulating him and the army on the capture of Metz and appointing him a Field Marshal, is published. A statement is published at Tours that the Orleans Princes have an army of 150,000 men in the west of France. There appears to have been no military movements recently.

THE Secretary of the Navy has transmitted orders to Rear Admiral Glisson, commander of the flag-ship Franklin, of the European Squadron, to proceed with his own vessel, or select another of the fleet, if more convenient, to Liverpool, for the purpose of taking on board and bringing home a number of Blakely guns, gun-carriages, and other naval materials of war once belonging to the confederacy, recently surrendered by the English authorities to this Government, and now in possession of the American Consul at Liverpool.

THE London Court Journal of Oct. 8th, says: "Mrs. Lincoln, widow of the late President of the United States of America, arrived in Dundee on Wednesday, on a visit to Mr. Smith the American Consul, and pastor to the late President. She will be Mr. Smith's guest till Monday, when, it is understood, she will return to the continent, where she had been residing some time before coming to Dundee."

J. VERNON H. Vaughan, of Alabama, has been appointed Governor of Utah Territory to fill the vacancy caused by the death of General Shaffer. The late Governor, in co-operation with Judge McKean, had done much to force the obediences of the Mormons to the laws of the United States —a work which it is to be presumed will be further prosecuted by the new appointee.

ON account of the accusations that in taking the national census the population of New York was deliberately made less than a million, President Grant has ordered that a second enumeration be made at once.

The State Fair of Virginia opened on Tuesday at Richmond, on which occasion Jefferson Davis made a speech.

Friend Jake says he scarcely thinks it necessary to make any reply, as it has years ago become history that the late Elias Howe, Jr., was the originator and inventor of Sewing Machines, and the only matter of surprise—taking into consideration the splendid record the Howe Machine has made for itself—is that imitations did not appear sooner. WHAT HON. THAD STEVENS THOUGHT ABOUT MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS.

Mr. Wm. Lamberton, Post Assistant Engineer, U. S. N., writes to Dr. S. B. Hartman & Co., of Lancaster, Pa., the following: "At the capture of New Orleans, I was wounded in the right leg by a shell. The wound healed up, but a bad sore broke out near my ankle. Several doctors tried to benefit me, but none succeeded. It was then that the Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, Member of Congress, saw me, and, on learning the nature of my trouble, told me about MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS, saying, 'it is the most wonderful combination of medicinal herbs I ever saw. I use it myself, and I know that it will cure you in a very short period. Try it, my friend, try it. I will have it sent to you.' The result fully justified the high opinion of Mr. Stevens regarding your Bitters, for for me it was indeed 'by a perfect cure.'" Sold by druggists generally. Price one dollar per bottle. Nov. 4—1m

LOCAL ITEMS.

LARGE BEET.—Mrs. Christian Byers, sen., of Highland township, sends us a large Red Beet, which weighs 7 pounds.

HAIL STORM.—Yesterday (Thursday) morning, about 6 o'clock, our town was visited by a hail storm. The hail was about the size of hazel nuts and covered the ground. It was accompanied by heavy thunder.

STOLEN.—On Saturday night the 22d ult., a horse, belonging to Adam Black, living near Creagerstown, Md., and in the possession of James Black, near Littlestown, was stolen from the stable of the latter. The thief also took a buggy belonging to Rahter & Stover, from their shops; a set of Harness from Jerome Hemler; cushions and whip from Jacob Sheely. There is no clue to the thief or his whereabouts.—Compiler.

STREET PAVING.—The Town Council are busily engaged at work repairing Chambersburg street, which has been in bad condition for several years. From the Eagle Hotel west, it has been piked. Between the Hotel and the Diamond, the street, up to the line of the turn-pike, is being paved with cobble stones. The Turnpike Company and Railway Company should now be required to complete the work, by putting the centre of this street in good repair.

NEW ROOF.—The roof on the main College building, having given a good deal of trouble for some years, by reason of leaks, the Board, at their last meeting, ordered it to be removed and a tin roof substituted. Messrs. Doudle of York, and Cook of this place, have taken the contract, and are now at work.—W. C. Stallsmith & Son, of this place, doing the Carpenter work. It is a large building and the roof completed will cost about $1500.

☞ Among the new subscribers to the "STAR AND SENTINEL," during the past week, is that of Thomas Jefferson Burr, of Rockville, Indiana. Our old friend, F. W. Dinwiddie, in transmitting the name with a year's advance subscription, says, "Thomas is an aged colored man, living a few miles from here. Forty years ago he lived with Alexander Homer, sen., of Adams county. He came to the polls at the recent election, and threw his first ballot for the Republican ticket."

GOOD TEMPLARS.—A convention of Good Templars, composed of representatives from the Lodges in this county, convened in York Springs on Tuesday last, continuing in session two days. Eight Lodges were represented. The next convention will meet in Bendersville on the 25th of Febuary.

A Dramatic Entertainment will be given this and to-morrow evening, (Friday and Saturday,) in the Odd Fellows' Hall, York Springs, for the benefit of "Geary Lodge," of Good Templars. The drama of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room," in 5 Acts, will be rendered with scenery, costumes, music &c., by ladies and gentlemen of the Order, besides various Tableaux. Prof. Rheem, of Carlisle, will lead the music. Admission 25 cents; children under 12 years 10 cents.

ORGANIZED.—On Saturday last Francis Will, County Commissioner elect, was sworn into office, and the Board organized by appointing Moses Hartman, President; J. Jefferson Myers, Clerk; Wm. McClean, Counsel; Dr. J. W. C. O'Neal, Physician to the jail; Michael Rupp, Janitor of the Court House.

There was a sharp fight over the Clerkship, between Henry A. Picking, Esq., and Mr. Myers. The Board was to have been organized on Friday afternoon, but the active contest for the Clerkship monopolized exclusive attention, and the organization was postponed to Saturday morning. During Friday evening the Democratic camp gave evidence of serious troubie, Ramer's Hotel being the centre of active caucussing, in which most of the Borough workers participated. It seems to be understood that Messrs Neidig and Will were committed to Picking, but the friends of Myers rallied in such formidable numbers, that the former on Saturday morning sent in a communication withdrawing from the contest. Whereupon, Mr. Myers was unanimously elected Clerk.

RE-UNION.—The annual Re-Union of the officers of the 87th Pennsylvania Regiment took place on Thursday night of last week, at the Springs Hotel in this place. Mr. Hoppes, the proprietor, who has acquired a high reputation as a caterer on such occasions, served up a capital supper to which about twenty officers and invited guests sat down. After doing full justice to the edibles, an hour or more was devoted to speeches, reminiscences of the war, &c. Rev. Dr. Brown, who served as Chaplain to the Regiment, was called on during the evening, and made an excellent and well-timed address, in the course of which, while deploring the horrors of war, he held that the War for the suppression of the Rebellion was a righteous one, being waged in defence of the nation's life, and alluded to some marked features of the patriot and their influence on the nation and world. Gen. Hay, Col. Schall, Capt. Lannius, and other gentlemen also made pertinent speeches in response to calls.

The next Re-Union will be held in York, Pa., and the Executive Committee was authorized to make it a regimental Re-Union, to include privates as well as officers.

UNION IND. DISTRICT—(Irishtown), Term, 6 months.

No. 1. —— Francis A. Noel, $30

There may be a few slight inaccuracies in the above, as from a number of districts I have as yet no official report, and was obliged to give the facts from my own memoranda; but it will be found to be, in the main, correct. In many districts the terms are to short and the compensation insufficient. It will be a happy day for us, when no District in the county will have less than 6 months of school, and the lowest salary will be $35. Then our best Teachers will not be continually leaving the profession, or removing to other localities. Then we can begin to enforce a standard, which will give us competent Teachers. In Hamiltonban, I understand, the Directors had intended to either enghten the term or increase the salary, if they obtained the State Approaiation, which had been forfeited by the employment of a Teacher without a valid certificate. As I have obtained this for them, the figures of this township may be improved a little.

From the foregoing figures, it appears that the average length of term for the 161 Schools is a small fraction in excess of 5 months, and the average pay per month, is $30.15 nearly.

FACTS
FOR THE PEOPLE.
IN the last issue of this paper, appeared an advertisement over the signature of "F. B. Hine, manager," in which the public are asked to believe some very silly stuff, and very flyed "facts." They are no facts at all but pure fictions.
We do not wish to provoke a controversy on this subject but in our own defence we conceive to set the public right in this matter. We will do so as briefly as can be done, and one after another the seven "facts" and fictions of Mr. "Manager Hine," and giving the real facts in each case:

"FACT" NO, 1,

That A. B. Howe, for several years before his death manufactured and sold a machine which he styled the "Howe." We do not intend to deny, but that this was the original and genuine Howe, now taking one in its scenes, who is conversant with the facts, will for a moment claim.

"FACT" NO. 2.

That the same machine is still manufactured and sold at the same place, is not a fact but a matter of surprise. The world is full of imitators and impostors, but it never happens that more of this description glory in their shame. Is it not a fact that the Grover & Baker Company owns the principal part of the stock of this Bogus Howe Concern, and virtually controls the Business?

FICTION NO. 3.

How the old and original Elias Howe Machine, every part of which is secured by patent, can be an imitation of a much later and inferior production, is a mystery that can only be understood by unprincipled parties who find it to their interest to set up such preposterous claims. History has long since acknowledged Elias Howe, Jr., as the inventor and originator of Sewing Machines. This is how it came to rob him of that honor.

The facts are briefly these: About the year 1841 Elias Howe, Jr., directed his attention to the conceal, Sewing Machine. After the most incessant labor he completed the first Sewing Machine ever made.

Unsuccessful at first in inducing the people of his own country to see the value of his patent, he went to England, where he was soon aided hy lofers to found a Company, and by combining with a wealthy Company; but with the assistance of Elias Howe's rights and succeeded in establishing them in the Country.

The original machine invented by Elias Howe, Jr., was improved from time to time until September 10, 1856, when a patent was granted him for the first complete Sewing Machine designed for general purposes.

Other inventions afterward appeared that were essentially novel, and yet were dependent upon some part of the identical apparatus of Elias Howe, Jr., the right to use which had to be obtained from him. Even all the essential features of the most approved Sewing Machine (including the spurious one by A. B. Howe and his son) were first found in the Elias Howe, Jr., and the machines of later date are in fact but modifications of it. It was well brought out by Judge Sprague, Court for Massachusetts in 1854, when he distinctly stated in his opinion, "There is no evidence in the case that goes to cast the shadow of a doubt that for all the beneficial contribution the public by the introduction of the Sewing Machine, the public are indebted to Elias Howe Jr."

In regard to "Manager Hine's" fact (?) No. 4, we would say that he has been misinformed as regards the originality of the Elias Howe machines. For proof of the correctness of our statements, we refer the reader to the Encyclopedia Britannica, Vol. XI., page 533, Chambers' Encyclopedia, Vol. IV., page 844, and the Industrial Monthly for May, 1867.

FICTION NO. 5,

Is a repetition of fiction No. 3, and really contains little that is worthy of notice. The Medallion Head of the late Elias Howe, Jr., which the genuine Howe Company have seen fit to affix to their machines as their "trade mark," is supposed to be a thorn in the flesh of the usurpers. Ah! well they know that every time one looks upon the Medallion he is reminded of the great obligation machines invention. Elias Howe, Jr., for his "trade mark" (the Medallion Head) adopted a few years ago by the Company is very appropriate and will not soon be changed.

FICTION NO. 7,

Sets forth that the Original Howe machine can be bought of H. H. Rowe—dear and cheap. Seven cities disputed for the honor of the birthplace of Homer, and no less than eight individuals have advanced claims for the invention of printing, and the ghost of Elias Howe, Jr., may thank its stars, that its individuality is not entirely ignored by rival Sewing Machine spirits.

GREEN CORN FODDER FOR MILCH COWS.

Jefferson Shaner, Chief Burgess of the Borough of West Chester, and one of the best dairymen in this section, informs us of the great value he puts on corn-stalks for stimulating feeding his cows, and in connection with it, suggests a new idea to us, and a new practice, the advantage of which he has fully proved.

Instead of sowing corn in the usual way broadcast or in drills, he plants, in addition to his regular corn-field, a piece of ground convenient to his cow-sheds, at the ordinary distance apart, which is here 4½ feet each way.

About the begining of the ninth month (September,) he cut down the whole stalk, the grain having passed the stage of being what is called "in milk," but still quite soft, and feeds to his pigs by chopping the ear up with a hatchet. They then eat cob and all, and thrive on it much faster than on the very best sound corn. This he has fully tested. Perhaps some of our agricultural chemists can explain the reason. The green stalks he feeds whole to his cows, who consume it all, and in preference to the corn-stalks which had been sown broadcast. These latter when given along side, will not be eaten till the large stalks are consumed.

Our friend Shaner's theory of the reason of this preference is no doubt correct, and is a strong illustration of the well known fact, light and free circulation of air are indispensable to healthy vegetation. He instances the case of a potato sprout in a dark, damp cellar. It will grow 3 to 4 feet long but it has no maturity of sap or strength and being brought to the light soon dwindles away.

In the full grown corn-stalk exposed to the sun-light and a free circulation of air through the rows on all sides, there is probably a full developement of saccharine jelice, in which we know corn-stalk abound Its chemical constituent, whatever they are, are well elaborated. It is therefore palatable to the stock, and nutritous.

Thick sown corn either broadcast or in drills, but especialy the former, has growth of stalk of pale green, and sometimes of an almost white and sickly color, comparable somewhat to the potato vine in the cellar. The sun and air have not reached it, and it may therefore be comparatively innutritious and unpalatable to stock, though still worthy of cultivation as a change of food or partial substitute for either grass or hay.

We should be pleased to hear of other experiments in this same direction, so as to have this matter fully tested.—Practical Farmer.

AN ELOQUENT DEFENCE OF WOMEN.—"Dey may rail against women as much as dey like," said a darkey, lately, "dey can't set me against dem. I hab always in my life found dem to be fust in lub, fust in quarrel, fust in de dance, fust in de ice cream saloon, and de fust, best and last in de sick room. What would we do without dem? Let us be born as young, as ugly, as helpless as we please, and a woman's arm am ready to receive us.—She it am dat gave us our fust dose of castor oil, and put clothes on our helpless, naked limbs, and cubbers up our foots and noses in long flannel petticoats; and it am she, as we grow up, dat fills our dinner basket wid doughnuts and apples as we start for school, and licks us when we tear our trousers."

IT costs about $3 a head under the Grant Administration to govern the United States, but it costs $28 a head to govern the Democrat-ridden city of New York.

JOHN A. DODGE, President.

We have that confidence in this machine that we are willing to let those wanting a machine test it with any other machine they may wish, and keep the one that gives the most satisfaction.

Farmers wanting Droppers attached can be accommodated.

For the benefit of those wanting machines we should refer them to a few of those to whom we have sold, viz:
